It has been our goal to keep you well-informed about J&J's continuing effort to destroy the rights of your existing Talc clients and the thousands of Talc victims who will suffer and die in years to come. This fight is about talc cancer victims, but it is even bigger. To evade its responsibility, J&J attacks the very fabric of our civil justice system designed to ensure accountability. J&J attacks courts, judges, juries, scientists, trial lawyers, and even cancer victims. The stakes could not be higher. Neutrality in this matter is not a reasonable option.

What we are expected to do every day requires more than just courtroom fights; it involves us recognizing the need to stand firm when the overwhelming evidence shows us that an entirely corrupt corporation like J&J is trouncing on our civil justice system.

Below is a list of law firms that understand the importance of this fight against J&J's third bankruptcy attempt. They understand that their voice matters in once and for all establishing that a corporation worth nearly 400 BILLION dollars is not entitled to kill thousands of people and then seek the protection of a bankruptcy court.

We will keep you informed as this list continues to grow. In addition, we will also begin to keep you informed about the list of law firms that have caved in from J&J's illusory promise of quick profits over the best interest of all J&J terminal cancer victims.

We stand united and ready to discuss a non -bankruptcy solution to this horrendous history created by J&J. We are committed to stand firm until we get there.
